In 1890 our imports of barley were 11,332,545 bushels. In 1891 imports fell to 5,078,733 bushels, and they would have been less but for the great rush of barley from Canada in September before the new Tariff passed. But the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1892, was wholly under the McKinley law, and what was the result? Simply that we imported only 3,146,337 bushels, a decrease of 8,186,208 bushels, which represents the increased market of home-grown barley. Is this a benefit or an injury to American farm-

Some explanation is needed of why the Democrats feel so jubilant over having carried Alabama.

"MR. SPEAKER, where was I at?" is a question that the entire Democratic majority in the recent Congress might ask. Neither the Speaker nor any one else could answer the question.

This is the description given of themselves by the employes of the Homestead Iron Works. "The employes in the mill of Messrs, Carnegie, Phipps & Co. at Homestead have built there a town, with its homes, its schools and its churches, have for many years been faithful co-workers with the company in the business, and have invested thousands of dollars of their savings in the se said mills." Just put next to this a description of the Free-trade English iron workers and you will have the difference between Protected and Freetrade laborers.

A SCENE IN COURT

Over the Iron Hall Receivership Case-Reporter Threatened With Contempt. Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 25.—There were some dramatic scenes in the court Wednesday after the Iron Hall receiver had qualified. His attorneys asked the court to direct the various branches to send in their reserve funds. The court was on the point of issuing this order, when his attention was called to the fact that the Indianapolis reporters were taking these things down. He stood the reporters up in a row and ordered them to destroy their note books and say nothing about the court's action. The reporters are giving full accounts of all they heard, and in spite of the warning of the court that they would be held in contempt. The court went into private consultation with the attorneys, and presumably issued the desired order. This, it is claimed by the press, is illegal, as the court records are

This is the first attempt at destruction of property around the Carnegie city inside and outside of the company's works. The body of the car was badly shattered and the contents scattered in all directions. So far as can be ascertained no one was injured. A reserve force of police was summoned, and quickly surrounded the place, but no one was captured, and no clew to the
